Where Practice Meets Community

Behind Cannabismesse NRW is Cannabisverein Recklinghausen e.V. We know the topics, questions and challenges that cultivation associations face in their day to day operations from our own experience. This is what shapes our vision for the event: creating a place where knowledge is shared, practical experience becomes visible and meaningful connections can grow.

Cannabismesse NRW brings cultivation associations, companies and visitors together within a clearly structured event concept. Cultivation Associations, commonly known within the community as CSCs, are not simply part of the event. They are one of its key pillars for exchange, education and factual information.

Bringing numerous cultivation associations together creates space for different experiences and perspectives. Camping and a hotel directly on site provide additional opportunities to connect beyond the regular event hours.

Exhibitors

bring products, solutions and fresh ideas to the industry.

Cultivation Associations

bring experience, practical knowledge and community together.

Visitors

bring interest and new perspectives.

Moving Forward Together

Many cultivation associations face similar questions while gaining very different experiences along the way. That is exactly where the potential lies. Cannabismesse NRW creates an environment where knowledge can be shared, solutions can be found and association work can be presented in a factual and informative context.

01

FIND SOLUTIONS

Meet relevant companies, industry experts and solution providers for specific questions and needs arising from day to day association operations.

02

CONNECT WITH OTHER CSCs

Meet other cultivation associations, exchange experiences and build connections that can continue to provide value beyond the event weekend.

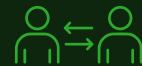

03

CREATE FACTUAL VISIBILITY

Make association work and perspectives visible through factual exchange with the community and industry, without turning participation into advertising.

04

SHARE KNOWLEDGE

Contribute your own experience, learn from others and share knowledge that is genuinely relevant to everyday association operations.

Our principle

Share experience. Find solutions. Move forward together.

Our Concept for Meaningful Exchange

Our programme creates additional opportunities to share knowledge, build connections and contribute practical experience. It is not simply about being present. It is about formats that actively connect cultivation associations with one another and with relevant contacts from across the industry.

Meaningful encounters therefore do not happen by chance. They happen where questions, experience and real needs come together.

Exchange is not limited to individual programme sessions. The entire event becomes a space for encounters, conversations and new connections.

The Right Connections

During Speed Dating, cultivation associations meet exhibitors with relevant expertise and solutions. Short conversation rounds make it possible to address specific needs, assess potential solutions and quickly connect with the right contacts.

Visibility with Substance

Panels, discussion rounds and other factual, informative formats give cultivation associations space to contribute their experience and perspectives. This allows association work to be understood and discussed without placing advertising or promotion at the centre.

And this is only the beginning.

Further activities, exchange formats and programme elements will bring practical association knowledge, community and industry together, creating an experience that continues to have an impact beyond the event weekend.
